100 Cluster Newsletter
February 2010

Notes from the Homeroom:

The 100 Cluster had quite the month of February. Not only did the students celebrate 100 days of school, but there were many academic and sports activities as well. Students were able to both participate and watch basketball games. They were also able to play Rock Band and were given opportunities to engage in the Relationship Advancement Process by socializing with each other.

Everyone worked very hard and welcomed a break from their studies. When the students returned from break, they enjoyed our monthly cluster activity. This month, students who were Level 3 were able to go bowling in order to help with the Social Responsibility Process. Other students were able to watch the movie UP, make arts and crafts or play board games. The students continue to work hard on their goals and academics. We look forward to a March filled with exciting activities and experiences from which the students can grow and learn.
